The Traveler's Gift: Seven Decisions that Determine Personal Success - The Third Decision (part 2)<sup>i</sup>

Are you a person of action?

Beginning today, do not dwell on the past or on lost opportunity. The past is gone; the future is immediate. When faced with the choice of doing nothing or doing something, do something.

Avoid an attitude of "laziness" – walk with a spring in your step and a smile on your face. Let the "lifeblood rushing through [your] veins" urge you upward and forward into activity and accomplishment. Inspire others with your activity. You are a leader.

Leading is doing. To lead, one must move forward. Your activity will inspire and create a wave of success for those who follow.

When faced with a decision, understand that you possess a healthy mind to gather and sort information, and the courage to come to a conclusion. Successful people make decisions quickly and change their minds slowly; failures make decisions slowly and change their minds quickly. You can make a decision, and you can make it now.

Next week: We follow David Ponder to his next stop for determining personal success – a visit with Christopher Columbus.
